THE CITY COUNCIL HOLDS AN IM-PORTANT MEETING.

The City Assisting the Electric Light Com pany to Its Struggle With the Western Union - Market House Plans - The Center Street Sewer-Other Matters. [From Morning Edition.]

All the members of the city council but Dr. Nelson were present at the regular meeting of that body last aight. President Mast was in the chair. The meeting was full of business. Toward the close of the session Mr. Conklin introduced a resolution granting the Champion Electric Light Company the privilege of erecting their poles and stringing their wires in all the streets of the city necessary to the establishment of the lights ordered placed by council. W. A. Scott, president of the electric light company, said that the only object of the resolution was to clothe the company with authority from the city, in order to obviate the possibility of defeat on account of technicality, in the injunction suit of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the electric light company, now pending in the common pleas court. He said the electric light company had no fear of being beaten if the case was tried solely on its merits. He said that he had visited Cincinnati and had learned that no trouble had ever resulted there from the electric light wires being strung parallel with and close to the telgraph wires. He said that in many cases the wires were crossed there, but that no difficulty had ever been experienced. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Tehan opposed the adoption of the resolution on the ground that It would throw the city liable to damages, "Let the electric light company fight its own battle," said Mr. Thomas, "it has no right to drag the city into the controversy."

It was urged that the resolution was unnecessary, inasmuch as the contract specifically gave the the desired authority. The clerk read that part of the contract, referring to the subject, which gave the company permission to erect poles and string wires wherever necessary.

Mr. Thomas move I to refer the resolution to a joint committee consisting of the case committee, the special committee to locate the electric lights and the solicitor, but the motion was lost. A vote was then taken on the adoption of the resolution, resulting in its passage, by the following vote:

Ayes - Ackerson, Cogley, Conklin, Funk, Grube, Johnson, Kidder, Mast, McKenna, Netts and Stephan-11.

Noes-Korn, Lessner, Prince, Russell, Tehan and Thomas - 6.

The city cierk's report for October, showing receipts of $33.90 and disbursements of $136,40, was read and referred to the auditing committee. The city weighmester's report for October, showing receipts of $147.60, was sent to the same committee.

Property-owners on the first, second and fourth alleys east of Limestone street, between Maple avenue and Center street, sent in a communication protesting against the grading of those thoroughfares with boulders. A communication was also read from the property owners on the first alley, praying that the improvement be delayed until next spring. Both petitions were referred to the committee on city improvements.

A petition for the placing of a lamppost on York street, between Harrison and Clifton streets, was referred to the committee on gas and corporations. A like reterence was made of a petition for four gas lamps on Gallagher | paper in the country! street, between Clifton street and Gillett avenue

The document wassigned by all the barbers in the city but three. Similar ordinances are in force in Dayton and other cities of the state. The matter was referred to the solicitor with instructions to prepare an ordinance in conformity with the prayer of the petitioners.

The figance committee reported that $2,500 had been borrowed from the Stringfield National bank and placed to the credit of the sanitary and street cleaning fund. The report was received and placed on file.

The committee on streets and highways reported a grade on College avenue, and also one on Center street from Columbia to North. Both were adopted.

The committee on sewers reported in tayor of placing a catch basin each at the four corpers of High and Market streets, and submitted a resolution appropriating $390 for the purpose. The recommendation was adopted and the resolution passed.

The committee on sewers reported through Mr. Ackerson that the Center street sewer was completed, and that it had been thoroughly examined and found to be satisfactory throughout. The committee usbmitted resolution for the acceptance of the sewer Some discussion followed, it being claimed that the catch basins on the sewer were defective. The resolution was referred back to the committee for one week, with instructions to make further examination of the sewer and report at the next meeting. The sewer committee also reported the engineer's final estimate of the sewer, which showed the total cost of the improvement to be $24,987.38. The document was ordered placed on file. The committee also submitted an ordinance to pay D. F. Minahan, the contractor, $10,526.93, balance on contract, and John Beaver, superintendent of the sewer, $131.25. After considerable discussion it was decided to allow the contractor only $5,000 until after the sewer has been further examined. Mr. Beaver's bill was allowed. On Mr. Johnson's motion the sewers committee was instructed, when the sewer was finally accepted, to submit a certificate of acceptance to the council.

The mayor's report for September was re ported O. K , and was ordered placed on file. The committee on public buildings, to whom was referred the matter of quieting the title of Market Place, reported that they had secured the sixth interest of the children of Julius A. Sprigman, deceased, at a cost of $175, and that the deed would be delivered Wednesday, Nov. 4. The committee submitted a resolution appropriating the amount named. Mr. Tehan, who made the report, said the attorney of the parties would be in the city Wednesday for an hour or so only and that he would want

The matter was referred to the committee on streets and highways, with ins ructions to confer with the street railway company to see what can be done. The committee on markets, through Mr. Stephan, reported plans for a market house mitable for Market Space, and the council took a recess of five minutes to examine them. When the council reassembled, the plans were referred to the committee on pubic buildings, without discussion. The plan simply represents a shed roof on pillars, 27 by 60 feet in sixe, and capable of accommodating twelve stalls. Mr. Tehan also reported a resolution instructing the I, B, & W, and C, C, C, & I, railway companies to plank their crossing on West Main street. Mr. Thomas moved to smend the resolution so as to also include the other crossings in the city. The amendment was adopted and the resolution.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Techan appropriating $100 from the street cleaning and repair fund, to repair the main streets of the city with broken stone and gravel; also appropriating $175 for graveling Greenmount avenue. The resolution was adopted. Mr. Prince submitted a resolution providing for the construction of four catch basins on

The Mast Tunnel Gives an Ample Supply of Water.

[From Morning Edition.]
When the Water Works trustees, during the dry season last July, determined to sink a well near the confluence of Buck and Beaver creeks it created a great furore among the manufacturers and millers who own water privileges along the creek. The public is stready familiar with the injunction suit never yet been tried, and the trustees have continued their work without interruption. P. P. Mast was one of the parties most interested in the suit. He realized the fact that if any great amount of water was diverted from the creek, it would result in great injury to his large business interests; but at the same time be realized the dire necessity of the city. He proposed to council that experiments be made at the foot of Mitchell hill just north of the pump house, but as the ex pert engineers employed by the trustees opined that no water was to be had at point, council declined to make the experiment. Firmly convinced in his own mind that a sufficient supply of water could be found lower, Mr. Mast set force of men at work at his own expense to tunnel in the toot of the hill. For the first tew weeks it looked very much like a torlorn hope. However, they persevered, and as they proceeded further the prospect became more encouraging, and one or two small streams of water were struck. Yesterday morning the tunnel had reached a and begin walling the tunnel with sheet iron, in order to take care of the water which was bound to rush out as soon as they dig a couple of feet further. The news spread about the city quite rapidly, and during the afternoon quite a number of people went out to see the tunsel. All who saw it and beard the large stream of water gurgling and rushing past the end of the tunnel, say that it will afford an ample supply of water for city use. This discovery will doubtless cause the trustees to discontinue their work at the confluence of the creeks, and the injunction suits will go by the board. This patriotic act of

Mr. Goodwin's latest success, affords the able comedian a grand opportunity to show his great talent, both as an artist and s mimic. The play is a satire on skating rinks, and Goodwin uses burlesque and ridicule treely. The comedy is brim full of funny things, exquisite new music and many great features. As Bonald Delaine, Good-win has scored a success. The tollowing is from the Buffalo Courier of April 8: "To say that the Academy of Music was crowded last night hardly expresses it-the attendance was something more than a crowd, it was a crush, and never in the history of the Academy has there ever been such a house. It was the first production of Mr. Goodwin's new farcical or rather absurd wrinkle, entitled "The Skating Rink." In the character of Ronald Delaine, Mr. Goodwin gives the American stage another great character as clear cut as a cameo. character as clear cut as a cameo. His manipulations are as as natural as a spring of gurgling water, and just as full of rich tun as a war cablegram of unpronounceable names. The character is well defined and elastic, and like all elastic wen denned and "issue, and like all clastic parts is susceptible of "padding op." Mr. Goodwin completely lost his identity as Henry Irving in search of Ellen T.,—his make-up as the English tragedian being marvelously accurate. The quality of Nat's burlesque of "Camille" is unquestioned, and with the aid of Erasmus as Armand made one of the bits of the evening, being particularly amusing. Mr. Goodwin made some telling hits in a topical song, entitled, "Far. Far Away," as in the song about Ellen T. With such a comedian as Nat. Go win at the head, the play is bound to be a uccess, and a small fortune made.

Himself and company will be at the Grand Saturday evening, Nov. 7. Seats now on sale at usual place.

Brings Another Bustardy Suit Before

By her attorney, Chase Stewert, Katie Doud filed an affidavit in Squire Rightmeyer's court yesterday afternoon, charging Daniel H. Kelly, a young core-maker in the Champion malleable shops, with the paternity of her unborn babe. The maiden though frail is not particularly fair, and seems to have had a hard time of it during life, A couple of years ago she brought action against one Harry Wiley before Squire Smith, charging him with assault with intent to rape. She lost the case. She claims that she and Kelley have been intimate for over 12 months past. Kelley was arrested at the shop by Constable Jewett and was released on bond. The case is set for hearing at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Reason People Despise Patent Medi

Is because they are usually recommended to cure all diseases. This must be a mistake beause the great success of the Shaker Extract of Roots (Siegel's Syrup) is due almost solely to the fact that it is made to cure one single disease, namely, Indigestion, for which it is a certain remedy.
